

The Power of One

*It takes more than tanks and guns and planes to win.
It takes more than masses of men. It takes more than heroism, more than self-sacrifice, more than leadership.
Modern war requires trained minds. The days of unthinking masses of manpower are over. Individual intelligence, individual understanding and individual initiative in all ranks will be powerful weapons in our ultimate success.*

— General Brehon Somervell
Commanding General of the Army Services Forces
